DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 25 U.S.C. 102 that formed the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 25-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Hansen et al. (WO 94/15912).

Hansen discloses calcipotriene. See page 1, lines 12-30.

Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Hansen et al. (WO 94/15912, page 1, lines 12-30). Even though Hansen discloses a process for crystallizing calcipotriene the end product is still calcipotriene. The fact that solvents were not added simultaneously does not change the end product: calcipotriene. The resultant product would possess the same properties, same amounts and same proportions given the fact that the starting materials are the same.

Claim Objections

The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 25-27 been renumbered 24-26 respectively.

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the closest prior art US 2003/016,226 does not disclose or suggest a method of crystallizing calcipotriene from a solution where the first solvent (a diakyl ketone) is combined with a second solvent (methyl formate). US 2003/016,226 discloses that the product was crystallized from acetone then methyl formate to yield calcipotriene. The prior art does not teach using the solvents simultaneously.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
